He and his family make their home in Gulf Breeze, Florida.

Retired founder of SPSmedical Supply Corp., Chuck Hughes has worked for 30+ years in the manufacturing industry in areas of Regulatory Affairs, Marketing, Research & Development, Microbiology and Sterilization Training. He’s been a corporate member APIC, AORN, AST, IAHCSSMM, OSAP, SGNA and numerous others, including AAMI and CSA where he contributed to writing medical device reprocessing standards. A popular speaker at regional, national and international health care conferences, Chuck has visited thousands of health care facilities providing continued educational training and mock surveys of medical device reprocessing areas. Highpower Labs helps medical device manufacturers develop and validate IFUs that are reasonable for healthcare facilities to comply with. This service is provided for new devices and for existing devices that processing personnel have trouble complying with, i.e. IFUs that are incomplete or that require unusual resources.
